

Leigh Stegeman

SENIOR CIVIL & STRUCTURAL ENGINEER

B ENG, NER, RPEQ 10639

BACKGROUND

As a proven industry leader in both Civil and Structural Engineering, Leigh is well known and highly respected by peers and clients. With over 18 years of experience, Leigh has worked on prestigious commercial projects in Cyprus and England as well as a wide variety of residential, education, commercial and industrial projects including waste and petrochemical industry projects throughout Australia. Leigh's skills extend over a variety of structural engineering designs including pre and post tensioned concrete, reinforced concrete, structural steel, concrete tilt panel, masonry as well as high rise and low set structural stability. Leigh's Civil Engineering experience has been developed through components such as bulk earthworks, roadworks, stormwater drainage, implementation of bio basin design and detention basin design, erosion and sediment control, technical specifications, tendering and contract administration.

Through close working relationships with developers, architects, building contractors and project managers, Leigh has developed excellent communication and technical structural and civil engineering skills. This enables him to manage a project team while allowing him to undertake project co-ordination, delivery, site supervision, contract administration, detailed design, negotiate with Councils, State Government Authorities, and other stake holders to deliver sound cost-effective solutions that are on time and within budget.
